"Springtime" On Monday.
When "Springtime" is presented at the Majestic theater April 28th for the benefit of the industrial department of the Y. W. C. A., the leading comedy role will be taken by Ernest March and as Bobby Brewster.

This is an exceedingly clever part—the portrayal of the "Beau Brummel" in three generations and "Bobby" in spite of several breach of promise suits—remains a lion with the ladies to the end.

Playing opposite him in this role is Flossie Adams as "Elvira Judd," a dashing young widow, and Mazie Penn as "Abigail Thompkins," a highly susceptible maiden.

In the big comedy scene of the play all honors go to "Zenobia," the dominating wife who has led "Bobby" to the altar. This part is cleverly handled by Virginia Overbey.

One of the choruses which is sure to please the audience is "When You Dance the Stepdance Gavotte." This is led by Miss Flossie Adams as "Elvira" and she is ably supported by the following May Day Guests of 1888: Miss Mary Ivy, Randolph Perkins; Miss Annie James, Bill Berkeley; Miss Martha Fitzgerald, Bland Perkins; Miss Eleanor Guerrant, Shields Harvey; Mr. and Mrs. Riram Carter; Bernice Bedford, C. Buck Conway.

Engagement Announced.
Announcement was made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. I. Thurston Bendall of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Bendall, to Thomas O. Moss. The wedding will take place late in the spring.

Wednesday Afternoon Club Notes.
The Wednesday Afternoon Club will hold its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock in the club rooms. George B. Temple is chairman of the afternoon. The subject for discussion will be "Neurologicals." Miss Margaret Brydson will make a talk on "Neurologicals," after which a musical program will be rendered by quite a number of talented Danville singers. Quite an interesting program has been arranged.

Miss Agnes Adams.
Daughter of J. S. Adams, Gretna, Va., May Queen.

The court is as follows: Chiswell Head, Prince Charming; Rosalind Stutz, Crown Bearer.

Maids of Honor—Milo Bates, New York City; Virginia Stoneman, Richmond; Betty Woodward, Trenton, N. J.; Virginia Carter, Chatham; Lillian Shangle, Elizabeth, N. J.; Eloise Kilby, Norfolk, Va.; Marjorie Mondell, Washington, D. C.; Eliza Causey, Suffolk, Va.; Evelyn Weatherly, Macon, Ga.

Pages—Kitty Frantz Penn, Danville; Emily Langhorne, Lynchburg; Heralds—Helen Smith, Danville; Mary Moss, Akron, Ohio.

These, all attired in gorgeous Elizabethan costumes, will be ushered in by heralds, and numerous court dignitaries, and the accompaniment of songs by the C. E. I. Glee club.

The prologue will be given by Wiley Patterson as Queen Mab and Martha Scott Johnson as a wandering fairy. Other characters are: Puck, Pan, Father-Time, Spring, etc.

The solo dancers are Nora Petty, Catherine McCord, and Dorothy Colonna.

Many visitors are expected from various parts of the state and from Washington.

John Leitch Is Danville Visitor.
John Leitch, of Philadelphia, founder of Industrial Democracy, the policy of mill management adopted about five years ago by the Dan River textile organization, was a visitor in Danville yesterday between trains. He was on his way South and he seized the occasion to pay a short visit to H. R. Fitzgerald with whom he became acquainted seven or eight years ago and since which time has developed a warm personal friendship.

His short visit was purely personal and had no significance, it was said today, in connection with the Golden Rule government here.

"Y" TO ENTERTAIN ITS NEW MEMBERS.
The Social Work committee of the Young Men's Christian association of which J. T. Catlin, Jr., is chairman, at a meeting yesterday night Tuesday, April 23rd, as the date for the annual reception to new members of the Y. In addition to the directors of the association, J. T. Catlin, Jr., L. H. Browder, William A. Georgehan and J. M. Thomas will constitute the reception committee for this occasion.

The entertainment is planned especially as a welcome to the new members of the association signed as a result of the recent campaign, the facilities available making it impractical to entertain the entire membership.

Mary Pickford to Quit Films
(Copyright, 1924 by The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, April 23.—Mary Pickford says she is going to retire from the films after another three, or at the most four pictures.

"It is no use pretending I am a Duse or Bernhardt and go on acting forever," she said. "I created a certain type, which has been worked over. It is finished. It is possible to do another type, of course, but the public wants me only in one character and that I think it is time to quit."

Mary's time is divided between interviews, radio talks, and receptions, in all of which Douglas Fairbanks is her loyal attendant. She called her radio audience "Fellow citizens," saying she was born in Canada and therefore was British, although she loved America because it is her home.

REV. GIPSY SMITH TO CONDUCT BIG REVIVAL AT ROCKY MOUNT

Cottage prayer meetings have been held over the city twice a week for the past several weeks and in this way a spiritual atmosphere, created for the revival.

Chas. F. Allen, song leader and advance man for the Gipsy Smith party, is scheduled to arrive in the city Thursday from Valdosta, Ga., where the evangelist has been conducting a campaign for the past several weeks. LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER CONTINUED

It seemed to me there was nothing for me to say to this, and I was smarting from his casual acceptance of my coming to the station to meet him simply to act as chauffeur. I did not make any remark.

I felt him looking at me rather curiously, but I kept my eyes straight ahead. Finally we drew up to the home Advertising Company building. Then occurred, little Marquise, one of those transformations, one of those entire changes in the whole atmosphere of marital existence that every wife knows and yet that which every life seldom speaks about.

Jack looked up at me, his face smiling, his eyes tender.

BETTER WIVES AND MOTHERS
The emancipation of women as evidenced by the evolution in dress from steel stays that made a twenty-inch waist and the long street sweeping skirts to the sports clothes of the present day has certainly had its effect upon the health of women. With proper attention to diet and exercise a race of better wives and mothers is assured by it. If, however, ailments develop as evidenced by irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness and irritability, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to overcome them. Thousands of women testify to its success—adv.

Dearest, it was sweet of you to come to the station for me this morning. I was awfully glad to look into your face again. I've missed you every day, and you can't tell how happy I am to be home again. You know, don't you dear, that my mind just now is all taken up with my business; but I'll be at the house early and you must tell me all about what's gone on since I've been away, and I'll tell you all about Syd's accident."

As he was speaking, a taxi drove up beside my car and Sally Atherton jumped out.

In a moment everything was forgotten except that his secretary had come back, and things might go on now without any annoyance to him. "Oh, Mrs. Atherton, this is luck," he exclaimed, going forward and taking both her hands. "I was expecting to find everything upside down, and you know what a sorry hand I am at straightening out details. Now you're here everything seems all right again."

"Thank you, Mr. Prescott, I'm very glad to get back." Then Sally turned to me.

"You're looking well, Leslie."

The whole conversation and greeting between Sally and Jack was so casual that, honestly, little Marquise, I did not know what to say to her. Both seemed to have forgotten that Sally had just buried her husband. Both seemed to have forgotten everything except that they had come back to do together some immensely important thing which they could not do by themselves.

I did manage, however, to spring out of the car and hold out both my hands to my old friend.

"I'm so sorry for you, dear, you've been having a very hard time, haven't you? You will let me know, won't you, if I can do anything for you?"

"Sure she will," interrupted Jack. Impatient to get into the office, "She's come and have dinner with us very soon."

Then he turned to her and said: "You haven't heard anything from the Horton Company, have you, about their advertising contract? It should have been sent them the day I left."

She shook her head, and waving her hand to me, went into the building, Jack forgetting me completely, following.

I could not help noticing, little Marquise, that Jack had said nothing to Sally about her husband, and the fact that he had not didn't seem to worry her in the least. I became suddenly aware that Sally Atherton was a very extraordinary woman.

Orchestral Works Splendidly Played at the Tabernacle

The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra gave an exceptionally fine performance last night at the tabernacle before an audience which was disconcertingly small considering the merit and the renown of the playing organization. Judged by the standards of the orchestra directed by Henri Verbrugghen is the finest example of finished ensemble playing heard in Danville. This was the opinion of competent critics last night who were not forgetful of Modest Altschuler and the Russian Symphony orchestra which appeared here some years ago. It is certain that no symphony by Beethoven was ever performed here and feeling with which the fifth in C Minor was given last night. It stood out notably in a programme of fine choice all of which was played with impressive effect despite the depression which rows of empty seats is calculated to create in the ranks of any highly finished orchestra.

Two things mentioned against perfect enjoyment of last night's programme, one was the temperature of the tabernacle and the other was the well known discomfort of the benches which will continue to agitate any audience which gathers there until some kind of soul prevails upon the trustees to change them. However, must be weighed the splendid acoustic properties of the building. The Minneapolis orchestra would not have been heard to such advantage as it was last night in any other local building.

The complete accord between Mr. Verbrugghen and his players, and the emotional control he exercises over them are the outstanding features of the orchestra. This was demonstrated constantly during the rendering of the programme and especially in the two Lohengrin numbers in the Tchaikovsky "Nut Cracker" suite and the four movements of the Beethoven symphony all of which afforded time and again scope for the wide range in orchestral qualities, tone and volume and the interpretative powers of their leader.

The programme opened with the overture to "Der Freischuetz" by Weber frequently played but rarely with that delicacy given it last night. It was followed by the Beethoven symphony one of his later works written in 1807 at the same time with the Pastoral and acclaimed by many as the most appealing of all the works of an unusually prolific composer. The Andante with its peculiarly characteristic recurring motif finale offered a fine example of orchestral control. This one of Beethoven's more pretentious and consequently time-consuming works virtually monopolized the first part of the programme. The second part opened with the Tchaikovsky "Casse Noisette" ballet first performed at St. Petersburg where it won instant popularity. Light and fantastic though it is and abounding in novel musical effects it is said to have been written by Tchaikovsky in a mood of great personal grief though the score betrays no such outlook.

The Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy with the attractive atmosphere given it by the dominant note of the Celesta was particularly appealing though none less so than the Cossack dance with its furiously increasing tempo and the excitement it carries with it. The Arabian dance is mystic and again shows novelty of the Slav's method of instrumentation while the Chinese dance is tremendously suggestive, and oriental.

One encore of the evening was given after the Tchaikovsky number when "Shepherds, Hey!" by Percy Grainger in his wildest mood. This is a riotous medley which can claim a close kinship with the since there is a touch of the South in it.

One Bizet number was included in the fourth group of selections, this being from the orchestral accompaniment to Darius's play "L'Arlésienne." This was followed by an original song and dance of the Maoris of New South Wales, the tune being discovered by Mr. Verbrugghen during his life in the Antipodes and since when he has developed and embellished into a clever bit of folk song with a savage use of the brass intermingling with a haunting tune. It made an impression and insistent applause caused the conductor to replay its final phrase. The programme was concluded with two selections from Lohengrin, the opera which established Wagner in the hearts of Germans forever. The two numbers were the prelude with its intense harmony and the more martial introduction to the third act.

RESOLUTION TO CHANGE NAME OF MT. RANIER

WASHINGTON, April 22.—A joint resolution was adopted by the Senate today authorizing changing the name of Mount Ranier, Washington, to Mount Tacoma.

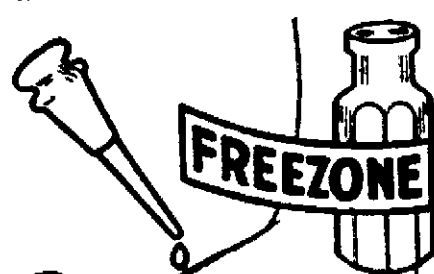

The resolution recited that whereas it was "the universal practice" to perpetuate Indian names in the geographical nomenclature of the country, Mt. Ranier now bears the name of "the commander of a British ship, engaged in depredations along the Atlantic seaboard."

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, asked if a majority of the people of Washington desired the change, adding that he had received several letters protesting against it.

"The legislature passed a resolution favoring the name," explained Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington. "I think the opposition there centers mainly in a few old places."

Another Payment In Co-Op Circles

RALEIGH, N. C., April 22.—All tobacco Co-ops of eastern North Carolina who delivered their 1923 crop to the marketing association will cut another big melon and divide another million dollars in cash not later than June 15, according to the announcement of the directors of the Tobacco-Growers' Cooperative Association at their monthly meeting, which was held in Richmond today.

Other organized tobacco farmers who will benefit by still other cash payments by the association are its members in the sun-cured and dark fired tobacco districts of Virginia, who are scheduled to receive cash disbursements not later than May 15, according to the announcement of their directors at today's meeting. Association members of the sun-cured belt will be paid a half of their entire returns on their deliveries of the 1923 crop to date, and the associated farmers of the dark fired area of Virginia are due for a third payment on their 1922 deliveries, which will equal ten per cent of the bankers' valuation for the association's dark fired receipts of 1922 tobacco, according to its directors.

The announcement of a second cash payment to members of the tobacco association in eastern North Carolina, which it is stated will give each member who delivered his crop of 1923 exactly half as much as he has already received from all his deliveries of last season follows the announcement by Richard H. Patterson, leaf manager of the association, that it has sold over one million pounds of tobacco within the past thirty days at satisfactory prices.

The recent disbursement of more than a million and a half dollars to that associated tobacco farmers of the South Carolina belt which marked the association's second year of operation, and its final settlement on that of 1922 proved highly satisfactory to the co-ops of the Palmetto State.

As shown by the individual statements now being handed out and mailed from the 43 co-operative belts, averages for many individual growers on their 1922 crop ran over forty dollars per hundred pounds, and in some cases reached fifty dollars a hundred. C. A. Singletary of the highest average on the 1922 crop of South Carolina, having received $1,111.33 for 2,102 pounds of tobacco delivered to the association in 1922, at $52.87 per hundred pounds.

Oliver J. Sands, of Virginia, executive manager of the tobacco association, George A. Norwood of North Carolina, its president, Bright Williamson, of South Carolina, vice-president, and T. C. Watkins, director of the commission from 250,000 tobacco-growers which sails for Europe on May 3 to establish trade relations with the consumers of American grown tobacco in England, France, Germany, Holland, Czechoslovakia and other foreign countries.

New Angel On Broadway

By MAXWELL HYDE

NEW YORK, April 23.—Broadway has a new angel. The pleasure-mad plan of twinkling lights again bows to the tambourine in the hand of a sweet-faced girl.

At first it was Rheba Crawford. Nightly she would take her stand and tell the passing throng of the good work of the Salvation Army. And the people—hard-shelled people—would stop to listen. Then romance stepped in and the blue-clad girl succumbed to the darts of Cupid. She was married.

Now Maudie Hazelwood, ensign of the army, takes her place. She came here from Ashland, Ky., a small town just south of the Mason-Dixon line. Out there she made her mark, she qualified for the toughest job in the ranks for a young girl.

It will be her task to muster the good that exists even in the worst of us. "I can't discuss definite plans now," she pretty Salvation Army worker says, "because I'm just on the threshold of my new work. But I am anticipating great joy in it." Her particular work probably will be organization of girls' educational units throughout 22 states comprising the eastern territory of the army. Ensign Hazelwood was born in Athens, O., but received her army training work in this city.

MAUDIE HAZELWOOD

Her work here will entail a deep study of "flapperism." She will determine just what that means and try to decide just how much of the germ a young girl may absorb without mischievous results.

TRACTION CO.'S FIGHT FOR RATE FIXING

(By The Associated Press.)

RICHMOND, Va., April 22.—The fight of the Virginia Railway and Power Company to establish the right of the State Corporation Commission to determine the rate of fare which shall be charged in cities was carried to the state body today when the traction company filed a petition requesting the commission to value its Richmond property, for rate making purposes, and to fix the rates for this city. The company then filed a second petition asking authority from the commission to raise the fare in Petersburg from five to six cents, or five "tokens" for twenty-five cents.

Although no attempt was made by the recent session of the General Assembly to clarify the law so as to give the commission undisputed authority to fix charges of street car lines operating in cities the question the jurisdiction involved has never been settled.

The petition relating to Petersburg will be heard Tuesday, May 6 at 10 o'clock and the one affecting Richmond at the same time on the following day.

In its Richmond petition the company reviews the history of its efforts to obtain an increase in the fare here and points out that a temporary increase, raising the fare from five to six cents was allowed in July, 1920. The claim is also made that present rates are "unjustly and unreasonably low, and unremunerative."

The Petersburg petition asks that a cash fare of six cents, or five "tokens" for a quarter be authorized for all its lines in that city. The petition proposes to make the new rates universal on all the Petersburg lines and agrees to continue the present school rate of 2½ cents.

Both petitions are signed by Thomas S. Wheelwright, president of the company, and E. Randolph Williams and T. Justin Moore, counsel.

Concrete Pavement consists of a definitely proportioned mixture of sand, pebbles or broken stone, and water, held together by the everlasting grip of that tenacious binder, portland cement.

Portland cement is the basic material that makes the Concrete Pavement endure. It builds repair out and the maintenance in.

You want your pavement to be an investment—not an expense. You want to receive continuous dividends in service and satisfaction. That means Portland Cement Concrete Pavement.

Watch for advertisements telling about the many other uses of concrete. And remember that the Portland Cement Association has a free personal service to offer you. Whether you use concrete or have it used for you, this service will give you more for your money.

Our booklets R-3 and R-4 tell many interesting things about Concrete Roads and Streets. Which one would you like us to send? There is no charge.

GOD'S GREAT CARTOON SUBJECT EVANGELIST

(By The Associated Press.)

"The seventh chapter of Daniel contains a record of four great cartoons used by God to show the people something of the character of the four universal kingdoms of the world, namely: Babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece and Rome," said Evangelist Uzell D. Pickard last night as he was discoursing on the subject of "God's Great Cartoons."

It seems that Daniel was shown four great beasts coming up out of the sea. Very peculiar-looking fellows they were as the evangelist threw pictures of them on the screen. There was a lion with eagle's wings; a bear taller on one side than the other holding three ribs in its mouth; a leopard with four wings and four heads. The fourth one he called a "non-descript." He had great iron teeth and ten horns. This terrible-looking old beast destroyed everything before him.

The horns of his fourth beast attracted the attention of Daniel more than anything else," said Mr. Pickard. "While he was studying them, another one came up among them and tore three of them up by the roots. This horns developed eyes like a man and a mouth which spoke great things. He also made war with the saints and prevailed against them."

"The twenty-fifth verse of this chapter seems to be the most impressive and the most comprehensive. It states that this little horn 'shall speak great words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and think to change times and laws, and they shall be given into his hand until a time, times, and the dividing of times.'"

"The power mentioned can be no other than Rome in its papal form," continued Mr. Pickard, "as the twenty-third verse says 'The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom, and all historians know that Rome was the fourth universal kingdom. This power—Papal Rome, or Catholicism—"

WIFE DOING GOOD WORK

"I have been laid off with stomach and liver trouble and bloating for many years. No doctors or medicine helped me. On the advice of my druggist, I bought a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy and I don't want to miss a single dose. It has given me more benefit than all the medicine I have ever taken. I feel I am doing good to recommend it to others." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. C. McFall's Drug Store and druggists everywhere.—adv.

JAPANESE CABINET CONSIDERS IMMIGRATION

(By The Associated Press.)

TOKIO, April 22.—The cabinet which met today to discuss action of the American Congress in passing the Japanese exclusion bill, received a lengthy report from Foreign Minister Matsui. It approved of Matsui's manner of handling the problem and Ambassador Hamihara's second letter to Secretary Hughes.

Members of the Kenkyukai, the majority party in the House of Peers, at a meeting this afternoon resolved to call on Matsui for an explanation of the exclusion question.

The municipal commercial hall was filled to overflowing today for a meeting held under auspices of the newspaper Kokumin at which leading nationalist publicists attacked the action of the American Congress in passing exclusion measure.

SHE SAT UP FOR HOURS AT NIGHT

"I had been falling in health the past few years," writes Mrs. L. M. Moyer, seventy-six, 332 Wall Street, Bethlehem, Pa. "I had always been a strong and a hard worker, but the death of my husband and other worries led to a general breakdown."

"My stomach failed me and I began to be in great distress. I had gas and bloating, had no appetite and lost all my strength and ambition. I couldn't sleep nights. I often had to get up and go down stairs and sit in a chair for hours alone during the night."

"I took Musyon's Paw Paw Tonic and in three days I began to feel better. Now, after three weeks, I feel fine and can't say too much in praise of Paw Paw."

Try this wonderful tonic yourself! It costs only $1 a bottle at any first-class drug store. "There's a Musyon Pill for Every Ill." Musyon's, Scranton, Pa.

Avoid Using Castor Oil

—W. L. Hand

Nobody likes to give or take castor oil. There is really hardly any need for it since the invention of Liv-o-lax.

And Liv-o-lax fills a double need. It has a marked action on the liver as well as the digestive tract, and so it can be used in cases of bilious attack, and when a cold is coming on, it takes the place of calomel and castor oil. Literally hundreds of mothers have earnestly thanked me for putting this good remedy on the market.

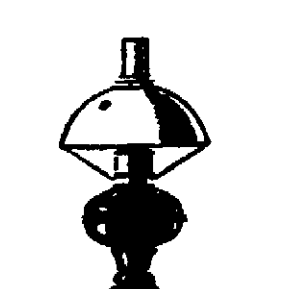

Children love to take Liv-o-lax and it is just as good for the same conditions in adults.

A bottle of Liv-o-lax costs but 30c at any drug store.

Standards of quality in gasoline and oil

Over fifty years ago "Standard" kerosene was the standard light of the American home. Today "Standard" Petroleum products supply light and heat for the home and above all power and lubrication for millions of motorists.

It is no mere coincidence that the oldest line of petroleum products in the country should be the "Standard".

The Standard Oil Company was founded when standardization was the biggest need of the industry. From the start its products have been standards of comparison by which to measure the quality of competing brands. "As good as Standard" is a flattering claim one often hears.

A thoroughly practical standard, too, for it is available at every turn of the road in this locality. Millions of motorists use "Standard" gasoline and "Standard" Polarine year after year.

You can always be sure by asking for them by name.

Appetite Gone?

A tempting, delicious looking meal—all the choicest morsels from a well stocked pantry. The fragrant aroma of all these good things failing to put a keen edge on your appetite—failing to arouse, in any degree, a hearty relish for the food so attractively placed before you? Why?

Scores of men and women are faced with the same misfortune. After a day of toils when they are tired—when good things to eat should be savored sought to recharge their vitality and at them for play time—their stomachs turn. They are worn down, played out. Food has no appeal. To them it is sickening. The aroma of appetizing things nauseates them.

Red blood cells are missing. Red blood which should be coursing through your veins strengthening your vitality—adding to your strength—keeping you healthy and fit—is not to be found.

S. S. S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. What use is an automobile with a bad battery? What advantage is a dynamo without electricity? Your body is a

The Sportsman

By WALTER CAMP

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)
NEW YORK, April 23.—Sports lovers have another reason for gratification at the record-breaking victory of Clarence De Mar in the marathon test at Boston besides the fact that his performance brightens America's Olympic chances.

De Mar's victory is a demonstration of the long time as well as long distance endurance of the American athlete. Four times in all and three times in succession has De Mar triumphed in the Boston run. And although the first victory was achieved 12 years ago, De Mar today seems to be better than he was in 1911.

F. A. M. Webster, a British athlete and athletic writer of note is making a drive to induce the British A. A. A. to put strong pressure behind preparation for the Olympic field events. Everybody knows he is right when he says the British have been weak in this line of sports for years, but many Americans probably will be surprised at his statement that there are only a half dozen men in all England who have any chance of winning points in the field events. He lists Nokes, whose hammer record is 122 7/8 feet, Howard Baker who has done six feet 5 inches in the high jump, Odde who has done 46 feet 4 1/2 inches in the high jump and jump Abraham a broad jumper, who has been seen in this country.

Bad news again comes from Woodland that he has sprained another tendon and may not be available for the Olympics. Many persons have been doubtful about his availability ever since he pulled up lame of the Harvard Stadium.

GETS TWO HOMERS BUT TEAM LOSES

ROGERS HORNSBY

For the Game's Sake

By LAWRENCE PERRY

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)

NEW YORK, April 23.—William Tilden's resignation from the Davis Cup and Olympic tennis teams was an act designed to impress the national tennis authorities with the fact that the tennis champion is an asset, not a liability. The shock may prove to be hard-shelled in which event we shall have lost a very fine athletic asset.

As for amateurism in tennis it certainly does look as though the U. S. T. A. has been picking on Tilden. Ward speaking for the American Association may prove to be so great that the authorities will follow Tilden's suggestion as to a revised attitude toward his amateur standing.

In this event, Tilden's resignation, he will withdraw his resignation. On the other hand, the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association may prove to be hard-shelled in which event we shall have lost a very fine athletic asset.

Now that Mr. Ward has brought amateurism in tennis to such a fine point, it might not be out of order to consider the case of Frank Zuna, the marathon runner.

It is all the more timely to do this because of our amateur race. Zuna is also an amateur. About three weeks ago he went to Baltimore and won the full distance marathon in record-breaking time. A week or so later, he went out west and won again. At Boston on Saturday after going twenty miles he had pulled up to within two minutes of De Mar who won the race and then had to quit because of stomach trouble.

Today in Newark the writer expected to find him resting upon a couch in some guided apartment provided for him perhaps by some local athletic club. But no, Frank isn't that kind of an amateur. Clad in overalls and wielding a soldering iron, he was hard at work at his trade as a plumber.

Zuna ran three full-length marathons in three weeks, winning two of them—one in record time which was broken by De Mar at Boston on Saturday—and dropping out of the third after running a score of miles in garb of a professional. The incident landed him near the front, if not in front. Thereupon he picks up his kit of tools and goes to work not at all worried or puffed by the statement that the Olympic committee "may" want him as a substitute.

MANAGER JACKSON IS USING PRUNING KNIFE

WINSTON-SALEM, April 23.—Manager Jackson of the Twins began using his pruning knife today. He released infielder Mayer, who hails from California, and outfielder Tolbert, who was with High Point last year and for whom Catcher Black was traded by the owners of the local club several weeks ago.

During the week several more of the men in camp will have to be turned loose. The boss is endeavoring to find jobs for some of the boys, but there appears to be a larger surplus of local players this season than usual, therefore Jackson is finding it no easy matter to find good berths for the surplus players.

The job of selecting five of the best ones will be no easy task.

ROOKIE WHITEHILL WINS SECOND START

(By The Associated Press.)

DETROIT, April 22.—Earl Whitehill was effective today and Detroit made a clean sweep of the series of three games by beating St. Louis 8 to 4. Wildness by Bayne and Lyons helped the Detroit offense. St. Louis scored one run and Detroit made two by means of the double steal.

SHERRY SMITH SPOILS SOX BALL GAME

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, April 22.—Sherry Smith smashed one of Hollis Thurston's slow pitches to center for a single in the eighth inning and gave Cleveland a 7 to 6 victory over Chicago. The Indians battled Blankenship hard in the eighth inning and took a commanding lead, but the locals played an uphill battle and drove Coveleskie off the hill and tied the count in the ninth.

Learn Move to First

By BILLY EVANS

Southpaw Sherry Smith, may not do much pitching for Cleveland this year but Manager Tris Speaker opines that he will have more than earned his salary if he teaches Pitchers Shaute and Edwards his deceptive move to first.

Unquestionably Smith has one of the best moves to first ever developed by a big league pitcher, with the possible exception of Ed Walsh. So deceptive is the move that it is extremely difficult for a base runner to reach when Smith intends to pitch to first.

As a result of this deceptive move base runners stuck close to first base and it is next to impossible to steal on him. Last year the records show that only one player, Fred Haney of Detroit, managed to pifer a base with Smith pitching.

While Smith doesn't catch many runners napping the purpose of his move is to hold them close rather than catch them, he practically eliminates any chance to steal. When opposing team scores on him it is really necessary to bat the runs over rather than resort to strategy.

Shaute and Edwards are promising stuff but no move to first base. Speaker has put it up to Smith as part of his job this season to impart his move to the two rookie southpaws. As a matter of fact, Shaute already has the trick pretty well figured out.

Smith's move has long been a disputed point, rival managers claiming a balk, but most umpires let him get away with it.

During the 1920 world series between Brooklyn and Cleveland Smith pitched two great games for Brooklyn. Tris Speaker, then managing Cleveland, kicked long and loud at Smith's move to first, but to no avail.

HORNBY HITS TWO HOMERS BUT CARDS LOSE

(By The Associated Press.)

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—A triple with the bases filled, a double and a homer gave Pittsburgh six runs in the fourth inning today and the Pirates defeated the Cardinals 10 to 7 in the final game of the series.

Dyer was forced from the mound in the fourth with an injured hand. Rogers Hornsby, Cardinal second baseman, got two homers with no one on either time. Score:

Robertson Too Tight For Locals

The Leaksville High school baseball team, which defeated the Danville High school aggregation in a game which was better contested than the score of 7 to 3 would indicate. It is no discredit to be beaten by such a team as the Leaksville bunch, which has won nine of its ten games this season and numbers among its victims Winston-Salem and other larger places.

The victory of the visitors was clearly and almost solely due to the remarkable effectiveness of C. Robertson the Leaksville pitcher who was so stingy with bingles that he let the Grove street sluggers down with one lonely hit—that one by Franklin in the opening inning.

Passes, hit batsmen and errors enabled Danville to score its three runs. It is true he walked five batsmen, but his feat in holding the local batsmen to a single hit is noteworthy.

In the fifth inning Nolan drew a pass and swiped second. Then it was that he pulled off the most daring play of the game. "Franklin, next batsman laid down a beautiful bunt and Nolan with a good lead off second, sprinted not only to third, but dashed for the plate and beat the ball. He pulled up at the base and threw out Franklin at first.

For the first four innings, it looked like Danville's game, but Rucker apparently weakened in the fifth and sixth innings when the Leaksville batsmen of their ten hits and capitalized them for five runs.

While the two teams erred rather frequently, the offenses were about equal. The result of the game was based on the pitching of Robertson. The batting of J. Crouch and C. Robertson featured.

Babe Ruth is one writer who leads an exciting life. The Babe never knows until he sees next day's paper what he wrote the night before.

While the experts may know more about it, we prefer to wait and see what horse Mr. Daugherty bets on in the Derby.

It seems that the only thing that is blocking a match between Harry Wills and Jack Dempsey is Harry Wills and Jack Dempsey.

Well, the world hasn't changed much. We notice the fact has been written in the old game as Jupe Pluve.

A magazine article is headed "How to make cows profitable." It is probably about the fact that we say his success with heavyweights.

Now if Harry Thaw had attempted to take a bite out of a pitcher's leg or something like that we'd say his sanity might well be questioned.

We don't know whether Sliser is seeing double any more or not, but he's getting twice as many hits as he used to.

Possibly you noticed that Eddie Collins, who was traded to New York from Boston and Washington during the winter, started the season at second for the White Sox.

Maybe Nick Altrock's fame as a Washington comedian would be even greater if he didn't have to compete with those congressmen all the time.

"SO THIS IS LONDON"

George M. Cohan Comedy at the Majestic Tomorrow Night

One of the biggest hits in many years, has been George M. Cohan's production of the international comedy "So This Is London," a solid year in New York City with one company and simultaneously in Chicago for four months with another and later produced in London, England, where it has duplicated its American success. "So This Is London," with Mr. and Mrs. Cohan and the company that appeared in Chicago, comes to the Majestic Theatre Thursday, April 24th, for one night only.

The play was written by Arthur Goodrich and produced under the direction of George M. Cohan himself. The effort evidently being to show up the idiosyncrasies of both Englishmen and Americans in regard to their rather foolish dislike and distrust of each other. The story is all about an American millionaire, who, with his wife and son, is paying his first visit to the city of London. He is so intensely patriotic that he never fails to express his disgust with anything that is British by using the ever ready phrase, "So This Is London," hence the title of the play. Imagine the consternation when he discovers that his son has fallen victim to the charms of an English beauty, the daughter of a rival in business. The British father of the girl is just as much of a snob as the American and so both of them put their heads together to ward off an impending alliance. That's all.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 23.—Short covering operations imparted a firmer tone to stock prices at the opening of today's market which reflected the feeling inspired by President Coolidge's address yesterday. Industrial leaders, including United States Steel, American Can and Studebaker, moved upward and fractional recoveries took place in a wide variety of oil shares.

Aggressive buying was nowhere in evidence, but continued covering brought about general list Motor, throughout the general list Motor, and special shares secured fractional gains but American Woolen continued under selling pressure due to the unfavorable trade reports from the textile industry, falling to a new low at 62 1/4. General Electric advanced 2 points and gains ranging from fractions to more than a point were registered by Baldwin, Allied Chemical, Colorado Fuel and Iron, Gulf States Steel, Chandler and MacDuff Motors "A." General Motors and D. B. Motors "A." responded to the favorable earnings shown by the former corporation in the first quarter. Congoleum and Norfolk and Western encountered fresh selling and declined from 1 to 2 points. Foreign exchanges opened higher.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

(Thomson & McKinnon.)

NEW YORK, April 23.—Everything in connection with this business is so very serious that it should be permissible now and then to smile when there is an opportunity. One of the funniest things I have read in a long time is in this morning's paper. It is a cable from Paris which says "It was learned today that France is prepared to demand a four year moratorium in connection with her war debts to the United States and Great Britain. I wonder what you call the last four years?"

The president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company told his stockholders that business will be better after the presidential nomination. Let us hope so. But I can't quite understand what the nominations have to do with it. One of them is as good as settled now. Hasn't taxes anything to do with it? Hasn't the bonus anything to do with it? Hasn't the new railroad bill anything to do with it? Hasn't the grain price fixing bill anything to do with it?

I can see nothing to warrant a change of position in the market. The best I can see is an occasional covering movement.

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 23.—Recent declines were followed by a moderate rally when the cotton market opened today. Liverpool made a relatively steady showing and there was rather active covering by recent sellers in the local market with first prices steady at advances of 10 to 24 points.

May sold up to 29.05 and October to 24.25 but a favorable interpretation of the weekly report of the weather bureau led to increased offerings at these figures and there were reactions of 15 to 20 points during the early trading. Business was moderately active although restricted to some extent by uncertainty regarding the probable extent and effect of the May cables reported trade calling and more desire to buy in futures but complained of a poor spot demand.

Horse and Plow Stirs Broadway

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)

NEW YORK, April 23.—The spectacle of a two horse plow turning up black loam in the "Canyon of Broadway" almost stopped the traffic today on one of New York's most famous and metropolitan streets.

New Yorkers are notorious rubbernecks. They will congregate by the hundreds about a street hawker vending patent collar buttons. A fist fight or an arrest is good for a crowd of a couple of thousand any day. But it has been a long time since lower Broadway has been stirred as it was today by Patrick Kiernan and his two horse plow.

All around the iron fence that shuts in the acre plot in City Hall Park which Kiernan was preparing for the annual seedling down to grass, the crowd gathered three and four deep while traffic cops on duty at the busy street intersections had their hands full keeping automobilists from parking to watch the novel spectacle.

"I feel like I was on exhibition at the circus," said Kiernan, in a rich brogue, under the tree where he had stopped to let "Boss" and "Jim" bite for a minute. "Sure, I've seen lots of crowds gather in New York, but I never thought the sight of a plow would be tying up the traffic in Broadway."

The plowman up a stone his plow had unearthed and fingered meditatively as he gazed across the street at the tallest office building in the world, the Woolworth Building.

"The greatest city in the world," he said with a sigh. "I've seen lots of crowds gather in New York, but I never thought the sight of a plow would be tying up the traffic in Broadway."

"One big fellow climbed over the fence this morning totalling to me about his days on the farm. A banker he was, I think. It took me back to my own days on the farm in the old country to hear him run on about how it felt to sink your bare feet in the new-turned earth. Yep—in the old new-turned earth."

"Another fellow stopped to say me a piece of poetry about the weary plowman homeward wending his way. Tomorrow I am going to bring out the harrow and break this loam up fine. Then, I suppose somebody will come by and quote the piece about the toad under the harrow. All right Bess. All right Jim, let's go."

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, April 23.—The cotton market opened 13 to 20 points down in way of adjustment with the decline in New York yesterday when the local market was closed. The decline would have been greater but for a recovery of 16 to 25 points in the northern market at the start due to better Liverpool cables than due. Prices eased off immediately after opening on a good weather report and favorable cable weather report and New York closed down to 26.00 July to 27.00 and October to 22.51 or 22 to 23 points, lower than Monday's close. The market then rallied about 15 to 16 points from the low on covering.

The REFEREE

BY ALBERT APPLE.

SALVAGE

Uncle Sam's sales of surplus army and navy supplies are getting down to the bottom of the pile. The war department, chief auctioneer, has recovered nearly three billion dollars this way.

Some of the supplies brought more than they originally cost. Others sold for less than a cent on the dollar. Most of the stuff went dirt cheap.

In marketing the three billion dollars' worth of supplies, the government has spent two million dollars advertising. Personal salesmanship, without advertising, would have cost many times as much. It pays to advertise.

TOURING

A skyscraper temple—a church built into a big building that will rent space—will be erected in New York City. The idea is to make the church self-supporting, with a sure and regular income from rents. It is not an absolutely new idea for many churches have funds invested. But it is an idea worth copying.

Business men, who belong to churches, by contributing their time and ability to similar projects can do a thousand times more for Christ than by merely dropping money into a collection plate. Some may object to a church having commercial relations. But surely it is better than church poverty or even minor difficulties in making both ends meet. The cult in that all business is not controlled by the Christian religion.

HOW

New York's skyscraper church is being built by the sale of five per cent bonds in small denominations, in addition to a two million dollar loan by an insurance company. Twelve thousand people attended a recent open-air meeting at which bonds were sold. A committee of 100 business men has charge of the pep-up campaign.

Buyers feel that they are investing in eternity. The extra five per cent, while here on earth is not without additional appeal.

WIND-BAGS

Old documents are found, dealing with the famous banquet given to Charles Dickens by newspapermen. That was in 1858, and Dickens charged $15 a plate, fabulous price for those days.

The records show that Dickens talked himself hoarse and that 14 long speeches were delivered by editors. Their oratory resembled their editorials.

Brevity is the rule today. More than ever before, people recognize that time is money—or imagine it is. We may have all eternity ahead of us, but deliver us from 15 long speeches at one banquet. People formerly could stand it, liquor being available.

SOUTHWARD

Gary, the steel king, is back from a three-months' trip through South America. He predicts a tremendous future for the southern continent, but says its growth will be slow because it is handicapped by lack of capital to develop natural resources. This is universal law, the necessity for working capital. And it applies as rigidly to the individual. Young men, are you saving dollars that later will work for you just as you now work for them?

Hudson Motor Car for quarter ended February 29 net income $1,301,362 after depreciation, federal tax and other charges against $1,689,268 in same period 1923.

Dome Mines quarter ended March 31 last, total income after expenses and tax but before depreciation and other charges against $1,011,472.

Kuhn, Loeb and Company purchased $17,640,000 Southern Pacific five per cent. equipment trust certificates. Will be offered at 91 1/2.

Pan-American Petroleum will be in retail at Los Angeles by May 10. Twenty stations to be opened immediately that number will be gradually increased to 100.

Hot Tips.

He had a taxi and got in, adding to a side, a hot tip on the stock market. The stock of the company that owned the taxi was going up. The taxi driver said so. Thereupon, Mr. Tip Taker hastened to a taxi driver in a position to know the financial affairs of the company that employs him. "The stock is too high," said the broker. "The company is sound, well managed, pays good dividends, but the business cannot earn enough."

The ruddy kingfisher, a bird native to the North, makes its nest in the hole of a cypress tree.

prescribe for me I follow your advice. Now I'm prescribing for you. Consider every element and aspect of the business, and you won't buy. But if you are sure on this tip, remember that when I call you for margins I'm going to call you hard."

The doctor insisted on buying at 110. Within two weeks the stock broke to 82.

Any person not in position to study constantly and to know the stock market has absolutely no business trying to trade in stocks. Speculation is a profession in itself and the average persons who tries to speculate is just as well qualified to practice law, medicine, dentistry, architecture and engineering. I quote Seymour L. Cromwell, president of the New York stock exchange, who said in a public address:

"I am often asked what protection the small man has in the stock market. First of all, the small man should not be in the stock market except as an investor. I believe that great harm is done both to the public and to the brokerage business by catering to the man of small means who does not buy outright, and who, after all, must be only a gambler under the circumstances."

Buy stocks? Certainly if they are sound, seasoned securities in established, well-managed companies at prices that you know from honest, expert information are fair. Better, for investment certainty, buy good bonds.
